city and have a look at the Madero Port and the Port of La Plata.

become proprietor. The service of this line it is said will now be greatly improved.

The general meeting of the Italian Bank of Uruguay is announced for the auditors will be held and the report on last half year's business will be also be French traveller Robichon who was to have left to-day on his territorial journey now he had better not for the present.

United Kingdom
London, 15th.—The Abyssinian forces have made six attacks against Makale since the 11th of this month. It is asserted that King Menelik's troops are very demoralized.

The Anglo-Venezuelan Question is on a fair way towards being arranged in a friendly manner. The Conservative press is rejoicing over the fact that no conflicts have arisen out of the question.

Sir Augustus Hemming, the new Governor of British Guiana, will leave England next month. He has received ample powers to finish the Anglo-Venezuelan Question in a satisfactory way for both countries. Sir Augustus Hemming's appointment has created great satisfaction in political circles, as the new Governor's experience of diplomatic questions is very vast.

It is asserted that England has not offered Venezuela any money as a recompense for accepting the Schomburg boundary line.

A telegram from Cape Town states that Sir Cecil Rhodes leaves to-day for England.

Jameson and his officers are yet prisoners in Pretoria.

Mr. Chamberlain has advised President Kruger that the detention of the prisoners might seriously hamper business in the Rand.

The Admiralty has ordered the construction of 10 fast cruisers. Government will pay a certain premium for each vessel finished before the time stipulated in the contracts.

The Daily Telegraph states that Russia has warned Italy that she is exposing herself to trouble, and that Russia will side with King Menelik if Italy continues the war in Abyssinia.

Telegrams from Italy state that Gen. Barattieri's advance guard of troops in Africa has arrived at Marmideta. General Arimondi has established a telegraph line between Adigrat and Adagannus.

Communication with Makale is difficult.
Sir Cecil Rhodes in obedience to a summons from the Minister for the Colonies left Cape Town to-day for England.

The latest news from the Transvaal is to the effect that President Kruger and Sir A. Robinson have made an agreement, one of the terms of which is that Dr. Jameson and the officers made prisoner at Johannesburg are to be handed over to the British Government to be sent to England for trial.

France

Paris, 15th.—The rumour of some very important diplomatic event in circulation yesterday, is denied to-day as without the slightest foundation.

The Czarevitch (Grand Duke George) will come here from Nice at the end of this month. His health has slightly improved since he arrived at Nice.

Germany

Berlin, 15th.—The Prussian Landtag was this afternoon re-opened with the usual ceremonies. The Emperor William and all the Ministers were present on the occasion. His Majesty being loudly cheered by the crowds collected in front of the Palace.

The Emperor in his opening speech declared that the finances of the country were slowly improving, but that unhappily the same could not be said of its agricultural prospects, which he admitted were certainly of a gloomy nature.

His Majesty then announced that the Government's attention was engrossed in studying this question and that a Bill would shortly be laid before the House for the amelioration of the agricultural interests of the country. Neither on Home or Foreign policy did the Emperor say anything of importance.

Austria

Vienna, 15th.—The number of lives lost in the explosion in the Hermagida coalmine is 16 and those injured are more than 20.

Italy

Rome, 15th.—The Minister of the Treasury has taken steps to increase the control of the State over the banks of issue, and all the papers approve of the move.

Prince Victor Napoleon arrived at Turin this morning and left shortly afterwards for Moncalieri Castle, to visit his mother, the Princess Clotilde.

The Minister of War has received from General Baratieri a telegram stating that since Monday at mid-day he had received no further news from Lieutenant-Colonel Galliano. Neither on Sunday nor Monday did the Abyssinians renew their attacks on the Makallé fort.

A funeral service was held to-day in Venice for the souls of those who lost their lives at the battle of Amba Alagi. The church was crowded by the public and the authorities of the city.

The aged prelate Monsignor Giuseppe officiated.

Belgium

Brussels, 15th.—Several Socialist leaders

Rigorous quarantine is to be imposed from to-day on all vessels arriving from Santos and Rio Janeiro in consequence of the alarming reports of yellow fever raging in those cities. Every vessel which left on and after the 1st January will be subjected to the new regulations.

Russia

St. Petersburg, 15th.—The entire Russian Press continues to write against England with respect to the Transvaal question, the Government being urged to oppose the alleged abuses being committed under the presumed protection of Lord Salisbury's Government.

Portugal

Lisbon, 15th.—The Government has resolved to increase the strength of the fleet and special credits will be solicited for that purpose as soon as Parliament reopen.

Chile

Valparaiso, 15th.—The result of the census of the Republic is not yet known.
The coachmen's strike has come to an end.

Two new infantry regiments will be created; also two artillery regiments.
The exchange market continues the same.

The Chilean Government is going to mobilize an army corps.

Brazil

Rio Janeiro, 15th.—The sanitary condition of the city continues the same.
The average of yellow fever cases a day is 25.

The Peixotistas are again trying to upset the present Government.

The Italian Minister has advised Dr.
Carvalho that he will leave the country at the end of the month if the Brazilian Government does not settle the pending claims.

Argentine Republic

tinues selling at 10.50 to 10.60. Superior maize at 8.35.

ANOTHER CHILIAN CLOUD.

The rumoured resignation of Sr. Guérrero of a portfolio which he accepted but never held, is one of those unlooked for political events which must fairly astound Argentine statesmen.

Hardly has a fortnight elapsed since Dr.
Guerrero took leave of the Argentine Government, to accept the important post of Minister of Foreign Affairs in his own country. Previous to his nomination as Minister of Foreign Affairs there had been a prolonged political crisis in Chile, and the President of Chile passed weeks and weeks in ineffectual labours to form a Cabinet. After great delays, mutual concessions and a deal of patching up, a new Chilean Cabinet was formed, the central figure of which was Dr. Guerrero Chilian Minister in Buenos Aires.

This experienced and distinguished Chilian diplomat left this country only the other day, and his departure was, as we then remarked, surrounded by everything that could form a happy augury for his future career. He had passed through the most critical times and moments of surprising excitement, and by his great prudence, discretion and conciliatory conduct had won for himself both here and in Chile the very highest reputation.
Strange, therefore, that, hardly has he crossed the mighty Andes and set foot in his own country than the discordant elements of Chilean trouble should again raise their heads and oust from office the very man whom the Chileans themselves took such superhuman trouble to get into their Cabinet.

We very much fear that the political state of parties in Chile is but imperfectly known on this side of the Andes, and that all the blessed eloquence of Dr. Jara and the Chilean Archbishop Dr. Casanova, and their pious pilgrimage to the Virgin of Lujan, which beyond all question did so much to revive the friendly feeling between the two countries, corresponded in nothing with the real national political sentiment of Chile, whose people need a lesson to bring them to their proper senses.

If the whole population of Chile were counted out to-morrow, there is not one man in that country whose judgment of the Chileno-Argentine question is equal to that of Guerrero. He knows this Republic from top to bottom, its public men, its weaknesses and its strength, its debilities and its forces, its vitality, its resources and its general movement, and Guerrero is of all other men in Chile the best qualified to measure the awful sequence which the rude ignorance of the "Rotos" and the rapid patriotism of the shopkeepers and dealers of Santiago and Valparaiso would secure their unfortunate country, did their party gain headway.

With very guarded suspicion we therefore look on the news of Mr. Guerrero's resignation. He knows well what he is about, and is determined to stand clear of the headlong ruin with which the political errors of his countrymen threaten their native land.

ET TOUJOURS ARTON!

Paris, Dec. 14th, 1895.

Liars! thunders the Press, and the echo of French public opinion answers: Shame The Villains! Most humbly do I crave the classical STANDARD's pardon for distorting, or at least seemingly distorting the functions of the Echo, condemned by Olympic decree, as my readers are aware to repeat the last word of each sentence heard, but many, very many changes have taken place since the days when the gay nymph, in fulfilment of the penalty imposed on her, mockingly repeated the cherished name of Eurydice! In response to the plaintive song of the weeping Orpheus.
After a lapse of a couple of thousand years, the echo, we may take it, has served out its term of punishment and no longer refuses the caresses of the Spirit of change which has left its impress on the annals of mankind. In Ireland, where enlightenment up to a recent date was privately distilled under the cover of the bridge, as potheen is to the present day, there is an echo that appears to have broken the combined fetters of Olympic and Tory oppression and to be fairly wedded to that advancement, of which the "First Gem of the Sea" has given so many remarkable instances in every province of human research. Who has not heard of the Vale of Glendalough? whose seven churches, by the way, embody more history even than the seven hills of Rome, charming and delightful spot which I once visited "on a lark", although Moore most unorthodoxly and with poetic inaccuracy, states that it is no place for larks. The presence of a jaunting-car seemed to me a singular adjunct to the scene, but the echo—

Was something more exquisite still.
Standing on "the gloomy shore" Pat the guide, shouts "How are ye?" Whereupon bounding from grove to grove, skipping from rock to rock, the echo, that keeps watch over the mysterious bed of St. Kevin, replies: "Quite well, and yesself!" The story is an old one, as old as the echo itself, and if I repeat it my aim is no other than to excuse the vagaries of the French echo—now pealing through the Boulevards bounding from kiosk to kiosk, and whose emulation of its Irish compeer is not, after all, very surprising—there exists so much affinity if not so much community of sentiment between the two races.
Besides, it is not the first time the French have used "our thunder," and even to the present day their language bears the traces of the memorable visit of Gallic ally to "la verte Erin." Take that expression, for instance, which is the pepper and salt of Boulevard conversation. Ah! Monsieur!—clearly a corruption Ah! Musha—the commonest exclamation in Ireland, or that slangy word "gosse"—meaning boy or rather the "broth of ope." Nobody will deny its derivation from "gosssoon," et sic de multis.

However, in pursuing the echo, I have wandered very far from my subject. I begin again.

Liars! thunders the Press, and Arton's letter, which the Figaro published this morning, is hurled at the head of the three ex-Ministers, who have been bam-boozling the public with garbled versions of the steps taken to capture the archtrickster. The shaft from Holloway Prison has struck home. In this letter—which has caused a commotion and confusion no pen could describe—Arton sets forth and offers to prove—

1st.—That when compelled to quit the gay soil of France, he was tracked by a detective who, although armed with a warrant of arrest, had unquestionably instructions not to arrest him. The detective even passed a month with him in Venice.

2nd.—That Mr. Georges Lefebvre, in the name of the French Minister of Justice, offered him certain advantages in exchange for the "compromising documents," and this offer was made in the presence of three witnesses.

Arton, furthermore, promises to hand over, at no distant date, the compromising documents for publication. His letter, in the meantime, confirms what we all knew, but that which the ex-Ministers so strenuously denied. As for Mr. Ricard, the Garde des Sceaux, in spite of the efforts of some papers to defend him, he is placed in a very false position. Mr. Newton was right: an attempt had been made —as he graphically and almost "gal-lically" put it—"to coquet with Justice!"

As a consequence of these developments, the scandal is greater than ever, so great indeed that—impelled perhaps by a foreign hand and psychance home-treachery—it aims—not at the miserable crowd of suborned deputies, but at the Presidency, at the Republic, at the very destinies of France. And one figs all the more inclined to take this view of the situation, when one ponders on the silence of the Presidency and the hesitation of the Bourgeois Cabinet, itself the quintessence of honesty and the incarnation of purity of principle. The Government is conscious of a hidden danger lurking in those compromising documents or coiled up like a snake under the very bunch of Justice. To meet out punishment to the suborned legislasimply to stain the honor of the

ITALIA AFRICANA

432—LIBERTAD—432

Mr. Joseph Olmi, C. E., and lately appointed Vice-Director of Telegraphs, arrived yesterday from Santa Fé and will take possession of his new post today. Mr. Olmi, who is a very young man, has reached that high post after 12 years' service. He entered the department on the very lowest rung of the ladder and worked himself up to the high post to which he now has been called by the actual President Gral. Roca. His many years of service, his experience in telegraphic matters and the ability with which he has carried out so many responsible works, entitled him to this distinction. We wish him success in his new post.

The new taxes at Montevideo seem to have rather a bile-forming effect on our friends down there, judging by the following rather vigorous remarks of our excellent contemporary the M V T:—"Gloom was on every face in commercial and business circles yesterday, owing to the promulgation of the abominable new taxes. Sullen and lowering looks and curses both loud and deep were seen or heard everywhere, and if a revolution had been declared it would assuredly have found many supporters. The official party carefully keeps aloof from the people and especially from business quarters, or it would certainly have heard some remarkably uncomplimentary remarks about itself."

There is a woman without legs at the Argentine Pavilion just now. Her name is La Houssa, and she is rather nice. Like a good many ladies of the present day, she is an optical delusion.

There is a quaint story told of a couple of pious Scotchmen who were taking dinner together one summer day in a little parsonage in the high lands. It was the Sabbath day, the weather was beautiful, and the bubbling streams were full of trout and the woods full of summer birds. One turned to the other and said: "Mon, don't ye often feel tempted on these beautiful Sandays to go out fishing?" "Na, na," said the other "I never feel tempted, I just gang."

Matters must be improving in one horse-parade. The Gold Eagle there has come down to 565 (unless there is a mistake in the telegram) which is a hundred points lower than the peak on which the bird was perched a few months ago. By the way, what has become of the Australian colonists? We have heard nothing of them for some time. No news is good news, according to the old saw.

We have to thank Messrs Wirth, proprietors of the great circus at Arcadia, for a copy of South Africa and also one of Brown's (What a prolific family the Browns are) Guide, with full and most interesting details of the Transvaal and the Southern part of the Dark Continent generally. Our colleague named has capital portraits of President Kruger, General Joubert, and other less known persons. The former bears a striking look of that much-married man the late Brigham Young. General Joubert is a jolly old cock that reminds us of Admiral Van Tromp, and looks as if getting outside "schnapps" was his favourite pastime. Come, subscribers, and have a look at the portraits of the men of the hour.

The fashionable world turned pale as foalscap paper yesterday as a soul-harrowing rumour ploughed its way through the city to the effect that the aristocratic Progreso Club will not give any Carnival balls this year, as the premises are undergoing repairs. The ladies must not take this excuse, or any other; so the Committee had better see to it, if they value whatever hair is left on their heads.

Now friends, Britons in exile, countrymen and "novios," it is a well-known fact that we all eat too much meat and too little fruit and vegetables in this semi-tropical country; and Mrs. Ernest Hart, a new or tolerably new (as she is not very young) woman, who considers herself a specialist on diet, gives her countrymen the following piece of her mind. We disagree with her. The moment John, Pat and Sandy give over strong meat and drink, so necessary in their abominable climate, they will no longer be the conquering race they are, however much their manners may improve. Mrs. Hart, who has taken the subject much to heart, says:—"One deplorable result of excessive meat-eating in England is the ill-temper which is a chronic moral complaint among us. In no country, I believe, is home rendered so unhappy and life made so miserable by the ill-temper of those who are obliged to live together as in England. If we compare domestic life and manners in England with those of other countries where meat does not form such an integral article of diet, a notable improvement will be remarked. In less meat-eating France, urbanity is the rule of the home; in fish and rice eating Japan harsh words are unknown, and an exquisite politeness to one another prevails even among the children who play together in the streets. In Japan I never heard of angry words spoken by any but Englishmen. I am strongly of the opinion that the temper of the English is caused by a great measure by a too abundant meat diet combined with a sedentary life. The un-oxygenized products of albumen-form acids and uric acid, which, circulating in the blood, produce both mental and moral disturbances."

Our gallant and distinguished friend General Donovan is at present in Montevideo, on a visit to Dr. Crespo Brandis. The papers welcome the gallant officer very cordially.

The duel between two learned Judges on the Santa Fé Bench has fallen through. One of them felt rather Bob Acresish and refused to face the music at the last moment.

There is a very interesting question mooted by a contemporary printed in Spanish as to whether it is a social obligation to answer cards and letters of congratulation and acknowledge the receipt of N. Y. G's? Most certainly it is. Who in this wide city can say that he ever sent a present to the STANDARD cellar without receiving an immediate acknowledgment?

The famous Strassburg clock is beaten. In the October number of Machinery, a monthly journal published at Johannesburg, South Africa, is an account of a most remarkable clock belonging to a Hindu prince, which the editor thinks the strangest piece of machinery in India. Near the dial of an ordinary-looking clock is a large gong hung on poles, while underneath, scattered on the ground, is a pile of artificial human skulls, ribs, legs, and arms, the whole number of bones in the pile being equal to the number of bones in twelve human skeletons. When the hands of the clock indicate the hour of I, the number of bones needed to form a complete human skeleton come together with a snap; by some mechanical contrivance the skeleton strings up, seizes a mallet, and walking up to the gong, strikes one blow. This finished, it returns to the pile and again falls to pieces. When 2 o'clock, two skeletons get up, and strike, while at the hours of noon and midnight the entire heap springs up in the shape of twelve skeletons, and strikes, each one after the other, a blow on the gong, and then fall to pieces, as before.

The bearish blast that began blowing yesterday was very strong this morning as the gold market opened, but the heavy demand of the fortnightly liquidation upset the bearish boat and the gold premium resisted the fall in a most stubborn manner. While Minister Romero confidently preaches a fall in gold from his gilded parlor in the Government-house, rumblings are audible in the West, and the whole market has turned its gaze to that quarter, perplexed and puzzled, willing to hope for the best and putting trust in providence, yet dreading the worst and watching every sign in the political sky.

In many quarters distrust is again ram-phant, and this must act as a check on the bearish tendencies that influence the views of the Minister of Finance.

About half a million gold dollars changed hands for cash; the premium opened with visible bearish tendency at 229.40%, fell to 229%, for a moment, then rose steadily to 230.20%, and closed at 229.90

%. Three hundred thousand dollars were Any person knowing his whereabouts is earnestly requested to send information to this office, or to Marcos Andersen & Co. T. B. factory, Suipacha 845.

"The bright, moving picture of the country's trade, commerce and production on the opening year comes up with the conviction that its future is superior to human error and independent of individual influence. The above lines, quoted from the Standard of 3rd inst., are the true expression of our sentiments respecting the present position and expected future of the country, if we are to judge from what has occurred to us as a minute fraction in its common wealth, during the year that has expired, and the hopeful advent of the new one on which we have entered. If we take our launch of trade, and instance our business in particular, we have to admit that the prospects as regards the country at large are not at all exaggerated in the transcript we have made up of, as the increase in our commerce has been beyond our most sanguine expectations during the old year, and on the eve of the new one, promise is given of a very satisfactory augmentation. To keep such, therefore, with this hopeful state of affairs we have made ample provision, and our stock, which is always kept in adequate supply, will be periodically increased with every novelty to meet the increasing requirements of the year."
